ABOUT ME

A recent Computer Science and Technology graduate from Jiangsu University of Science and Technology, ranked 3rd with a 91% GPA. Alongside my coursework, I have gained experience through publications and completed many courses and projects. I am passionate about machine learning and artificial intelligence and have completed several online courses on data science, deep learning, and Python. I have also received academic scholarships for three consecutive years for outstanding performance. I am looking for opportunities to take on new challenges, collaborate with peers, and contribute to the vibrant academic community of the institution I hope to attend.
